On the masthead of the Highlights is the phrase "Today Well Lived." It is excerpted from the following poem:

Salutation of the Dawn

Look to this day,
For it is the very life of life.
In its brief course lie all the verities and realities of your existence;
The glory of action,
The bliss of growth,
The splendor of beauty,
For yesterday is but a dream and
Tomorrow is only a vision;
But today well lived makes every yesterday a dream of happiness,
And every tomorrow a vision of hope,
Look well, therefore, to this day.

Gross, '91, thanks grads who keep giving back

Hello fellow Normans!

People sometimes ask me how I like serving as President of the Alumni Association.

The answer is simple--when your school is led by strong leaders like principals Ben Bushman, Dan Stepenosky, and now J Guidetti, the job is easy.

For those of you who don't already know me, this is my first year as president of the Alumni Association, following in the footsteps of previous presidents John Suckling S'48, Bob Fox W'46, and Daryl Snyder '51. I graduated from Beverly Vista in 1987 and Beverly High in 1991. Since 1999, I've served as publisher of Beverly Hills Weekly. I've been a member of the Alumni Association Board since 2000, working closely with Executive Director Joanna Stingray '78.

Let me tell you about some of the very talented people who make up the Norman Nation in 2007. Principal Guidetti's team includes administrative assistant Pam Kraushaar '73, assistant principals Amy Golden and Toni Staser, and athletic director Carter Paysinger '74.

Almost every Beverly department has at least one or more Beverly graduates on its faculty or staff. Just some of the many Beverly alumni you'll see on campus today include Virginia Carter '66, Daz Chandler '59, Ryan Franks '96, Michelle Halimi '02, Helene Harris '70, Eileen Kahn '82, Cynthia Lipscomb '71, Jason Newman '69, all of the Paysingers, Joel Pressman '67, Gregg Riesenbergl '82, Jane Wortman '71, Marla Weiss '81, and Danny Zadeh '90. Many of the walk-on athletic coaches are alumni as well. Recently retired alumni faculty include Lynne Shapiro '54 and Lucie Hinden '65.

Many of you have written us to add your name to our popular "2nd generation project". In the Class of 2006, would you believe an astounding 41 graduating students also had a parent who graduated from Beverly? An additional two 3rd generation students had a parent and a grandparent who graduated from Beverly. In the upcoming Classes of 2008 and 2009, we've identified four 3rd generation students! Such a high number of families returning every year to the Norman Nation to educate their own children underscores the continuing impressive academic caliber of our campus, even in a time where local and state funding for public schools is tighter than it was in previous decades.

This year we lost a well-known member of the Norman family. Lisa Harris '89 passed away after a valiant battle with cancer. Lisa was a track star and later a biology teacher at Beverly. Many of you will also remember her mother, longtime coach, counselor and assistant principal Tanis Harris. The Alumni Association awarded a scholarship to a graduating '07 senior in Lisa's memory (see article on page 62). We hope to continue the scholarship next year with your future donations.

In closing, don't forget that you graduated from the greatest and most famous high school in the country---probably the world. We appreciate your continued financial support as we help take our alma mater to even higher places. Until next time my friends, Go Normans!

*Josh Gross ('91)
President, Alumni Association*

New principal continues tradition of excellence

It is an honor to introduce myself to you as I enjoy my inaugural year as principal of Beverly Hills High School - arguably the finest public high school in America. This year, I am celebrating my 21st in public education, 11th as a secondary administrator and 7th as a high school principal. Having been at the helm at Calabasas, Alexander Hamilton and now Beverly Hills High School, I take delight in reassuring you that the staff and entire educational community in Beverly Hills are deeply committed to providing the necessary outstanding direction that enables all alumni to prosper in society.

Currently, the school is going through many exciting changes, especially in the area of personnel, as evidenced by 35 teachers new to the school in 2006-2007. I am pleased to say that each and every one of them is truly a remarkable educator. Beverly Hills Unified continues to attract the best and brightest from the field.

Among other significant changes, the new science, technology and math building is scheduled for occupancy in August. The state-of-the-art building will house nearly 40 classrooms and labs and will be equipped with the latest in technology. It promises to be the model structure providing some of the best programs in the district. In conjunction with the grand opening, we will be offering new courses in marine biology, forensics and biotechnology. Additionally, we and are looking to expand our award winning robotics program, which took first place in three categories at this year's Los Angeles Regional Robotics competition.

Likewise, regarding facility changes, the new synthetic surface on Nickoll Field was completed this past November. The renovation project also included a resurface of the all-weather, tartan track. The new stadium, funded in part by the city of Beverly Hills, and AYSO has allowed us to host our first home varsity baseball game in ten years. It is a premier venue that is also home to football, soccer and track, and now to the latest CIF sport adopted by Beverly Hills High School - boys' lacrosse.

On-going continued site improvements seem to be the order of the day, as KBEV which hosts one of the longest running weekly newscasts in the nation, is in the process of completing a $250,000 infrastructure overhaul which will allow for digital broadcasts. This project, coinciding with the reopening of Studio B, could not have been made possible without the support and generosity of the alumni Bosse family.

Hall of Fame adds six new members

On March 22, 2007, 6 alums were inducted into the Beverly Hills High School Hall of Fame.

The new inductees are Don Frisbee, S'41, Ed Edelman, S'48, Jay Sandrich, S'49, Mike Fenton, '52 and Betsy Roberts Ulf, S'49 and Frank Ulf, S'49. Betsy and Frank are the first husband and wife to be inducted.

The induction took place in the area outside of the library with the Hall of Fame in clear view. The induction was scheduled an hour before Alumni night at the Spring Musical.

The induction reception was a festive event and was attended by members of the inductees' families, friends and fellow alumni. The induction area was decorated with orange and white balloons and table cloths and there were sandwiches, soft drinks and cookies that were provided by Tobey Cotsen, '76.

This is the fourth year that the Hall of Fame Inductions have taken place at the high school in coordination with the Spring musical. It is a wonderful opportunity for alums to meet and welcome new inductees to the high school's Hall of Fame.

The Alumni Association invites all alums to attend this event and the Spring Musical and honor the inductees and enjoy the musical.

Ulf, S'49, spend two lifetimes in 'service'

Betsy Roberts Ulf, S'49 and Frank Ulf, S'49, have spent their lives as humanitarians, philanthropists, community leaders and business leaders.

While at Beverly High, Betsy was Vice-President of the student body and a member of the Alphas. Frank was Student Body President, a Knight, a 4 year varsity baseball letterman and he also played varsity football.

After leaving Beverly, Betsy attended UCLA and graduated with a B.S. degree in Education in 1953. Frank attended Pomona College and graduated with a B.A. degree in Economics in 1953, and in 1962 he received his M.B.A. in Finance from the University of Southern California.

From 1953 to 1956 Frank served in the U.S. Navy and as a Combat Intelligence Officer and was discharged as a Lieutenant.

Betsy became involved in many organizations and still serves on many of the same boards as Frank. She is a Trustee of the Autry National Center, a Blue Ribbon Member of the Music Center of Los Angeles, The Benefit Committee of the California Medical Center, Co-Chairs the Luminaires Benefit (Doheny Eye Institute), Member of the P.E.O. Chapter, N.A. San Marino, Member of the Pi Beta Phi Alumnae Club of Pasadena, the Town Club of Pasadena and a member of the board of the BHHS Alumni Assoc.

In the past she has served as a Trustee of the San Francisco Theological Seminary, President of the San Marino PTA, Girl Scout Leader, and the Crown Guild of San Marino.

Since 1975, Betsy has been working as a wedding planner and events coordinator for non-profit organizations. Town and Country Magazine has listed Betsy as one of the "top 5" wedding planners in Los Angeles.

Betsy Roberts Ulf and Frank Ulf

Frank embarked on his career after an honorable discharge from the U.S. Navy in 1956. He began at Union Oil as a financial analyst and worked there for 4 years.

In 1960 Frank co-founded American Investment Counseling Company and served as President/CEO.

In 1982 Frank co-founded Summit Management Company, and in 1986 Summit was acquired by U.S. Trust Company, N.A. where he served as Chairman and CEO of the Western Region. In 2003 he resigned and became a consultant to U.S. Trust. In 2004 Frank formed Covington Capital Management and currently serves as Chairman and CEO.

Frank serves and has served on many civic and charitable boards. The organizations include Autry National Center, California Science Center, Claremont University Consortium, KCET, Los Angeles World Affairs Council, Ralph M. Parsons Foundation, Pomona College, Regional Airports Improvement Corp., Rotary Club of Los Angeles, #5, USC Board of Gerontology, USC Marshall School of Business, YMCA of Metropolitan Los Angeles.

In 1995 both Betsy and Frank were honored with the first Boy Scout Family Award. In 2000 they were honored by the California Hospital Medical Center as Humanitarian Award Honorees.

Betsy and Frank met when they were eighth graders at Horace Mann and Beverly Vista, respectively.

They continued on together at Beverly High and they were married in 1953 prior to Frank's joining the Navy. They have a daughter and a son and they are the grandparents of four grandsons and twin granddaughters.

Edelman, S'48, supports community as local politician

Ed Edelman, S'48, has had an exemplary career as a public official in the city and county of Los Angeles.

After graduating from Beverly, Ed attended UCLA and received a Bachelor of Arts degree in political science. He graduated from UCLA in 1954 "cum laude" and was elected to Phi Beta Kappa. He then attended UCLA Law School and received his LL.B degree in 1958.

After graduating law school he served as a Law Clerk to U.S. District Court Judge William M. Byrne, later as a Deputy Legislative Counsel to the California State Legislature. He then served as Counsel to the Special Subcommittee on Labor of the U.S. House of Representatives and as a Special Assistant to the General Counsel of the National Labor Relations Board during the Kennedy/Johnson Administration.

Ed later returned to Los Angeles and was elected to the Los Angeles City Council where he served from 1965-1974.

In 1974 Ed was elected to the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors where he served for twenty years. During his term of office he was credited for having made County government more responsive to human needs.

He was responsible for creating the first Children's Court in the country as well creating a separate Department for Children and Family Services.

In addition, he was responsible for creating the Westside Mental Health Center, which was named after him. An amateur cellist, Ed was a champion of musical and cultural life in the community. He was instrumental in reestablishing the Ford Amphitheater for Music and Performing Arts as well bringing Sundays Live free concerts to the Los Angeles County Museum of Art.

After retiring from elective office, Ed joined the RAND Corporation a Senior Fellow in Public Policy. He has also spent time working as an arbitrator/mediator and facilitator, helping to resolve private as well as public sector disputes. He is currently serving on the Board of Directors of the Colburn Foundation and The Colburn School of Music, which he helped establish in its current location across from Disney Hall.

In 2005 Ed was asked to work with the City of Santa Monica to address the problem of homelessness in Santa

Ed Edelman

Monica and the region, serving as a Special Representative for Homeless Initiatives. His most recent accomplishment has been the establishment of a pilot Homeless Community Court in Santa Monica.

Ed is married to Mari Mayer Edelman, '60 who is a practicing clinical psychologist. They have two daughters and are expecting their third grandchild in May.

Alumni donations to high school gladly accepted

Although many of us take it for granted that Beverly High has plenty of cash to purchase whatever is needed, this is not the case.

The state is always short of funds to support education, so our schools are dependent on the community to support its fine programs.

If any of you have books, computers, musical instruments, equipment or furniture that you can do without, send them to the high school.

If you live near the high school, the administration can make arrangements to pick up the items. Please call (310) 551-5100 ext. 8300.

If you have any questions about this, call the Alumni Office at (310) 551-5100 ex. 8219 or email us at BHHSAlumni@yahoo.com.

Fenton, '52, enjoys long career in Hollywood

Chinatown. Godfather II. Shampoo. E.T. One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest. Marathon Man. Raiders of the Lost Ark. Norma Rae. Back to the Future. Total Recall. Aliens. Breaking Away. And Justice For All.

These are just a few of the more than 250 motion pictures and television shows with the credit "Casting by Mike Fenton."

Acclaimed for his creative contributions to many of the greatest films of the past 25 years, Mike Fenton has acquired legendary status among Casting Directors.

A graduate of UCLA Film School in 1956, Mike Fenton has the distinction of co-founding the Casting Society of America (C.S.A.) in 1982.

With a membership that now exceeds 330 casting directors in the United States and Canada, C.S.A. is responsible for enforcing a new standard of professionalism in casting. Fenton is President Emeritus of the Casting Society of America.

Mike Fenton began his career in entertainment in the mailroom at MCA Artists, Ltd., before being promoted to Agent. He worked three years as an agent with Herman Citron before moving to the Ashley-Steiner Agency.

After an interim career as producer with Al Ruddy, Fenton joined the Casting office of Paramount Pictures where he cast films for Jerry Lewis, Hal Wallis, and Walter Seltzer.

After three years at Paramount, Fenton joined T and L Productions as head of casting for eight television series, including Dick Van Dyke, Gomer Pyle, Andy Griffith Show, That Girl and I Spy.

Fenton departed T and L to form Roos-Fenton Casting with Fred Roos. The company soon evolved into Fenton and Feinberg

Mike Fenton

Casting and remained a force for 18 years, contributing to such diverse projects as Young Frankenstein, Beaches, Empire of the Sun, Alive, Congo, and Arachnophobia.

Upon Jane Feinberg's retirement in 1998, Fenton formed Fenton-Cowitt Casting, a partnership with Allison Cowitt he regards as one of the most inspiring of his career. Mike and Allison received the C.S.A.'s top honor in 2000; the Artios Award for Best Mini Series for Arabian Nights.

On the occasion of receiving the Hollywood Film Festival's Lifetime Achievement Award in Casting in 2000, Mike Fenton commented that "it is an incredibly joyous and rewarding occupation. I enjoy the work passionately and the icing on the cake is that they actually pay me to do it."

Mike Fenton is a member of the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences, a member of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences, and the Airplane Owners and Pilots Association. He is also President Emeritus of The Show Hawks Flying Club.

Fenton was married for forty years to the late Janet Monfort and had one son. He has been married to his wife, Irene for two and half years.

Frisbee, S'41, combines corporate, civic leadership

Don Frisbee S'41 has had a most distinguished professional career and is an extraordinary civic leader.

While at Beverly High, Don was Boys League president, graduated as an Ephebian and a Sealbearer. He was also a member of the swim team.

After leaving Beverly, Don entered the US Army as a private assigned to the air corps meteorological program and was discharged as a first lieutenant. Don is a graduate of Pomona College with a Harvard MBA.

Don started as an investment analyst with First Interstate Bank of Oregon in 1949 and moved to Pacific Power & Light Co. as an administrative assistant in 1953. Don rose rapidly through the ranks, becoming treasurer, executive vice president, president, chief executive officer, and board chairman in 1973 as the company diversified and became PacifiCorp.

Under Don's leadership, PacifiCorp revenue grew from $22 million to $3.2 billion. Don worked with PacifiCorp for 30 years. From 1973-94 he served as Chairman, and continued as Chairman Emeritus until 1997.

Don's corporate board affiliations include the Weyerhaeuser Company, Standard Insurance Company, First Interstate Bancorp, First Interstate Bank of Oregon, and Precision Castparts Corp.

Don's interest in civic activities dates back to his childhood where both his parents were active in community affairs.

Don spent 1/3 of his time in statewide civic involvements that he cultivated during his lifetime career.

The more recent civic activities are: Chairman, Honorary Chairman and/or Founding Director -- American Leadership Forum, C.P. Council of Boy Scouts 1991 Capital Campaign, Governor's Commission on Higher Education, etc.

Director -- Oregon Business Council, Oregon Independent College Foundation, Oregon Coast Aquarium, Oregon Shakespearean Festival Association, etc.

Governor -- City Club and President of Oregon Community Foundation, and Columbia Pacific Council/Boy Scouts of America, etc.

Advisor -- Children's Museum, Concordia College Center for Management of Non-profit Organizations, etc.

Member/Executive Board Member -- Age of the Pacific Project, President's Council, Columbia Pacific Council, Boy Scouts of America, Clatsop

County Historical Society, etc.

Board of Directors of the Oregon Literacy Inc., Portland State University International Trade Institute, PSU College of Business Administration, PSU Institute for Policy Studies and PSU Development, Campaign Committee of the Salvation Army, and Cascade Committee of the Washington Park Zoo.

Don has often been recognized for his civic contributions.

Some of the recent awards include - Honored by Governor Neil Goldschmidt as Portland's "First Citizen" 1986, Urban League's "Equal Opportunity Award" 1987, Willamette University's "Glenn Jackson Leadership Award" 1988, University of Oregon "Pioneer Award" 1988, etc.

Don credits his ability to juggle so many commitments to his wife of 56 years, Emilie, who passed away in 2004. Don is now married to Mary Clark Frisbee.

Don has four children and four grandchildren.

Proud to be Beverly family

Lou Spitz, S' 48, has always been proud to say, "I graduated from Beverly Hills High School."

In 1977, while on a Club Med vacation in Mexico, he met and fell in love with his wife, Melinda Mathes Spitz, '61.

He recently sold his business of 40 years, one inspired by the pride he felt wearing his Beverly High Norman letterman sweater. His company designed and manufactured custom racing jackets for sports car and motorcycle manufacturers.

He thanks Beverly for the excellent education he experienced. It made a major difference to the quality of his life.

Sandrigh, S'49, joins the family business as a successful director

Jay Sandrich, S'49, is an award winning television director.

While Jay was at Beverly, he was President of the Senior Class, a member of the Student Court and was a Knight. He also played B football and was a member of the B track team.

Jay's father, Mark Sandrich, was a motion picture director and directed many of the Fred Astaire-Ginger Rogers movies. His brother, Mark, Jr., S'45, also was a TV and film director.

After Beverly, Jay attended UCLA and graduated with a Bachelor of Arts Degree in 1953 and then spent two years in the U.S. Army. After his service in the army, he obtained a job at Desilu Productions as a second assistant director on the I Love Lucy Show. Jay then became an assistant director on "The Danny Thomas Show" and went on to produce the first season of "Get Smart."

Jay then directed many television shows including The Mary Tyler Moore Show, The Bill Cosby Show, The Golden Girls, Soap, Rhoda, Laverne and Shirley, Lou Grant, Beacon Hill, The Bob Newhart Show, The Dick Van Dyke Show and many more shows and specials. Jay also directed the Neil Simon film, Seems Like Old Times.

Jay Sandrich

During his career, Jay became one of the most honored directors in the history of television. The Directors Guild of America recognized Jay with an award which stated, "Outstanding Directorial Achievement in a Comedy Series." Jay received this award twice – once in 1986 for The Golden Girls and in 1985 for The Cosby Show.

Jay was nominated 10 times for an Emmy Award for his direction of TV comedy series. The Emmys are awarded by the Television Academy of Arts and Science. Jay won 4 Emmys: in 1986 and 1985 for The Cosby Show, and in 1973 and 1971 for The Mary Tyler Moore Show.

Jay was married to the late Nina Kramer, S'49, and they had 3 children. He has been married to his wife, Linda, since 1984, and they have 4 grandchildren.

Let the kids 'read all about it'

The high school library has a special section of books written by those who have attended Beverly.

If you are a published author, please send a copy of your book to the Alumni Association and it will be placed in the library.

Buying or selling your home?

Are you buying or selling a home in Southern California?

Ask about our "realtor referral program," where we will put you in touch with a Beverly alumni realtor in your area who has agreed to donate part of his or her commission to our association. This is a great way to support our ongoing activities.

Additional alumni realtors are welcome to contact us to be included in this program. Please contact our office for more details at BHHSAlumni@yahoo.com.

WANTED:

Watchtowers of your yesteryear

If any alumni have Watchtower yearbooks that they would like to donate, it would be most appreciated by the high school and the Alumni Association.

It seems that the collections at the high school and the Alumni Office are not complete. We want to preserve these yearbooks as they are part of the history of our school.

Further, the yearbooks are helpful in researching former students with respect to verifying the year of graduation and learning about the clubs, societies and teams with which they were involved.

Please mail the Watchtowers to Beverly Hills High School Alumni Association, 241 Moreno Dr. Beverly Hills, CA 90212.

Robert Sands S'29 died on Oct. 28, 2006. He was a member of the second class to graduate from Beverly. After Beverly, he attended Dartmouth. Robert served in the Army in WWII. His is survived by his second wife, three sons and a daughter, a son, five grandchildren, four great grandchildren and his first wife.

Jane Hedger Enger S'31 passed away on September 23, 2006. She met her husband, Bob, at Beverly and they were high school sweethearts. She attended Occidental College and graduated with a degree in Theology. She traveled extensively and she devoted her energies to many organizations. She is survived by two daughters and six grandchildren.

Jean Hessel Shaw Knoll S'32 passed away on March 7, 2007. After high school, Jean attended USC. She was involved in many fund raising and service organizations including the Assistance League and the National Charity League. She leaves behind four children and many grandchildren.

Alexander W. Berger '33 Alexander passed away on September 14, 2005.

William B. Doose S '33 passed away on June 12, 2006.

Betty Jane Gantner Richter W'34 passed away on July 27, 2006. She was predeceased by her husband and survivors include two children, two grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Arthur Lewis S'34 died in June 2006. He has an illustrious career as a producer and was recognized in New York, London and Hollywood.

David Simmons S'34 died on Sept. 2, 2006 as the result of an automobile accident. After Beverly, he graduated from USC with a degree in business and finance and then received an MBA from Harvard University.

Executive Assistant McCarthy, S'42, served Alumni Association

Joanne McCarthy, S '42, a loving and devoted wife, mother and grandmother, passed away peacefully in her home on Monday, April 30, 2007, at the age of 82.

Born in Hollywood, California, the fourth child of Helen and Paul R. Crawley, Joanne grew up in Beverly Hills. She attended Hawthorne Elementary School and graduated in 1942 from Beverly Hills High School where she had met so many life-long friends and the love of her life, Justin McCarthy.

On September 9, 1944, Joanne and Justin were married at the Chapman Park Chapel while Justin was on weekend leave from the Navy

during WWII,

Before starting her family, Joanne worked for a Beverly Hills pediatrician whose patients included the children of many Hollywood stars from the "Golden Age." With the birth of her first child, Joanne 'retired' to devote herself to raising her family.

As a young wife and mother, she volunteered as a candy striper at Children's Hospital. She was active in the lives of her four children, serving as a classroom mother and a Blue Bird leader. She also supported her son's Indian Guide group and the family's tennis activities.

In the 1980s and 1990s, Joanne joined her husband, Justin, as the Alumni Affairs Executive Assistant for Beverly Hills High School. This was a labor of love, taking her back to the place of so many happy memories while connecting with scores of old and new friends.

She is survived by her husband of 62 years, Justin; their four children, Julie, Scott and wife Shannon, Mindy (Oki) and husband Rick, Kim (Sanders) and husband Bill; grandchildren, Keenan and Collin McCarthy, Erynne and Aimee Oki, and Sean, Justin and Sage Sanders; and her siblings, Anne Bruskrud and Robert Crawley, Sr. She was predeceased by her parents and her brother, Paul.

A private memorial service and celebration of Joanne's life was held May 12, 2007 in Westlake Village.

His boyhood fascination with aviation led to a 40 year career as manager of the Lockheed Air Terminal (The Burbank Airport). He knew both Howard Hughes and Amelia Earhart. He also served in the Navy in WWII. He is survived by his wife of 65 years, Barbara, '36, and a sister.

Charles Older S'35 died in June, 2006.

He was Student Body President at Beverly and graduated from UCLA and received a law degree from USC and in 1967, he was appointed to the bench. His most famous case was the Charles Manson Murder Trial and he served as the presiding judge. He joined the Marine Corps and the joined the Flying Tigers. He flew in the China-Burma Theater and had more than 18 enemy kills and was an Ace. He also served as a Major in the Army Air Force. He is survived by his wife and three daughters. Judge Older is a member of the high school's Hall of Fame.

Her mother, Tanis Harris, was a longtime coach, counselor, and assistant principal at Beverly. She is survived by her parents, her two daughters, who attend Horace Mann, and her brother, Brad Harris, '90. The Alumni Association awarded a scholarship this year at Senior Awards Night in her memory (see article on page 62).

Game show is a 'deal' for Beverly alum

Stacey Gardner, '98, a statuesque brunette beauty stands clutching a briefcase. She is a recent law school graduate and assumedly holding a briefcase pertaining in some way to being an attorney.

But this briefcase is different. This girl is different. Although Garner went to law school and passed the bar exam, she is a model on the NBC show Deal or No Deal. She holds briefcase No. 2.

While she has been approached by agents since she was a child, Gardner says modeling was never what she aspired to do.

"Growing up in Beverly Hills has almost made me want to stay away from it [the entertainment industry] just because everybody comes here to be discovered and that's their dream and aspiration," Gardner said. "I give [my parents] a lot of credit for sheltering us from that whole scene. I was exposed to that world, but it never made me yearn to be a part of it."

During her time at UCLA, Gardner's love of sports began to drive her career path. The former captain of Beverly High's tennis team, Gardner worked for several sports agents during college and dreamed of one day becoming the female "Jerry McGuire." She also worked in the recruiting department at UCLA, a division I athletics system.

The opportunity to model came entirely by chance. After graduating from Southwestern Law School, Gardner was unsure about the direction that she wanted to go.

"I took the July bar exam and the results don't come out until November, so I had a couple of months in limbo when I wasn't sure what I wanted to do,"

Stacey Gardner '98

Gardner said.

While lunching at Judy's, a café on Bedford, fate stepped in and decided for her.

"A gentleman approached me with a 'Fear Factor' business card. I reluctantly gave him my telephone number, which I never do. I called and actually went in the next day. It was their final day of casting. I met with a gentleman; he interviewed me and asked me to come back for a callback," Gardner said. "I went back and there were probably a thousand girls. I thought I had no chance because I've never really done anything like this."

Gardner was one of the 26 women chosen for NBC's Deal or No Deal.

For the time being, Gardner is happy holding briefcase No. 2, but plans to put her law degree to use in the future.

"I will definitely use my law degree in some fashion. I would love to be a sports agent. Even being a sports agent requires knowledge of contracts and negotiations. I may also decide to pursue some hosting or on-air stuff" Gardner said. "My dream is to be a sports agent and put my law degree to use in some form. But if I'm approached for some awesome hit, then I may reconsider my goals and dreams."

Gardner continues to take an active interest in the community, participating with her mother in this year's Firefighters Backdraft Ball. Gardner and her mother helped get items such as trip and cars donated for the auction.

"I think it's important to give back to your community. I do a lot for the police and firement for the retirement fund," Gardner said.

Three generations support Apple Harvest Faire

The Maltzman family sponsored the Arco Flight Bungee ride at the Apple Harvest Faire on Sunday, October 22nd, 2006.

"It's wonderful to have three generations of our Beverly Hills public schools supporting our Apple Harvest Faire," said Maxine Moshay, Executive Director of the Beverly Hills Education Foundation.

Elaine Maltzman along with Meghan Kendall co-chaired this new community event.

Reminiscent of BHEF's Day in the Park, The Apple Harvest Faire was a great way for families to spend a Sunday afternoon.

On Saturday, September 16, 2006, 122 Class of '56ers, plus their spouses and guests gathered at Paramount Studios to reconnect with childhood friends, reminisce, graze the buffet, and enjoy music from the fifties.

While waiting in line for a tram tour of the studio, classmates exchanged hugs, lots of laughs, and shed a few tears as they shared memories of friends on the "In Memoriam" list.

A special tribute was made to Shep ('56 Student Body President) & Joni Cutler for their donation to the school's new Science and Technology Center in honor of our class.

Shep also donated all the commemorative T-shirts and custom name tags for all attendees. The high energy, "dresy casual" evening event was followed by an informal Sunday brunch/gabfest in the lush garden of Marty and Charlene Krell's beautiful

Beverly Hills canyon home.

The nostalgic 50th Reunion Weekend was the culmination of almost two years of planning by an enthusiastic seasoned committee co-chaired by Senior Class President, Ron Katsky and experienced reunion organizer, Joan Kline Yeoman.

Ron kept a tight rein on those wishing to socialize at the meetings, headed the reunion site search committee, and made the event arrangements.

Joan directed the search for missing classmates, handled finances with Bob Greene, sent thousands of e-mails updating classmates, and compiled the class directory with Bruce Edelson's help.

The Committee began with a nucleus of a dozen classmates who had worked on three past reunions dating back to 1981. Thanks to the Internet and "word of mouth," the committee soon doubled in size.

Long time committee member Roberta Jarvis Walley rounded up her team (Gail Abel Nopar, Carol Bernstein Auslander, Channing Devoueroux (Marilyn Anderson), Ilene Dolgenow Leeds, Elaine Glass, Molly Murch Coulson, Mary Ann Sloan Kleinman, and Sherry Vatz Newman) to help gather memorabilia and create the decorations.

Tami Kraushaar Greenstein designed the logo and invitations.

Tony Sokol arranged for the BHHS marching band to perform the alma mater and fight song during a surprise appearance.

Debbie Semenov Rosen wrote the newsletter and co-edited the Mini-Watchtower with Joan Kline Yeoman and Marty Krell.

Mike Antin, Reba Braff Simon, Joy Nuell, and Suzy

Wolins Jares assisted the co-editors in writing their classmates' current "bios."

The committee is hoping that the fascinating information about what childhood friends have done in the past fifty years, will inspire others to participate in a soon to be planned 55th reunion.

Classmates continue to keep Joan Kline Yeoman up to date as their addresses/Email change (Jyeoman11@aol.com).

MSNBC reporter writes investment book

You may recognize Beverly High class of '81 graduate Liz Claman when you catch an episode of MSNBC's "Morning Call," but now the Emmy and Golden Mike Award-winning business reporter can add another occupation to her resume: author.

Claman has written a book, The Best Investment Advice I Ever Received: Priceless Wisdom from Warren Buffett, Jim Cramer, Suze Orman, Steve Forbes, and Dozens of Other Top Financial Experts.

"My friend would say to me, 'You are so lucky. You sit by extremely rich people every day and get advice on money'" Claman said. "And I thought, why do I have access to this incredible advice when they don't?"

Claman set out to remedy that by authoring the book version of her well-advised commercial break conversations, compiling a book full of what she refers to as the richest people in the world giving advice on investing in bite-sized versions.

A total of 68 CEOs, billionaires and other financially successful people offered up their advice for the critically acclaimed financial book.

"It is my way of sharing my knowledge with the rest of the world," Claman said. "Welfare moms, white-collar dads and working parents who beat themselves up every day at work and at the end of the day they think they are too tired to think of how to invest their money. This is my contribution to them."

Claman was just extended a second book offer by Time Warner Books, publishers of The Best Investment Advice I Ever Received.

Claman was editor-in-chief of The Watchtower, Beverly High's yearbook. In her senior year, she was voted "Biggest Non-Conformist." She attributes her success to her roots as a Beverly Hills native who shot for her dreams.

"Growing up in Beverly Hills is a rarified atmosphere," Claman said. "But if you are a smart kid and you aren't clouded by all the money that surrounds you, you can be inspired by the success around you. My parents were inspirational to me. They both came from poor, immigrant families. They shot for the stars and ended up grabbing the moon. Growing up there taught me to recognize all of these examples are in front of me every day. Now I know what to aim for."

Department of Commerce recognizes Chen, '87

Candace Chen ('87) in her capacity as Chair of the Southern California Regional District Export Council hosted eight current American Ambassadors to the Middle East on an unprecedented and high profile goodwill tour in the U.S. to promote international trade as a basis for grassroots citizen diplomacy.

The tour focused on the positive and practical aspects of doing business in the region and the importance of corporate and citizen diplomacy. The tour kicked off in Los Angeles on October 10, 2006.

The U.S. Department of Commerce presented Candace with an Award of Appreciation for her efforts in organizing the Ambassadors Tour. The award was presented by the Hon. Israel Hernandez, Assistant Secretary for Trade Promotion U.S. Department of Commerce and Director General of the U.S. & Foreign Commercial Service.

Alumni cruise the Mexican Riviera

A few members of the class of 1951 recently took a cruise together on the Holland American "Oosterdam" to the Mexican Riviera.

They all had such a good time, there was talk about doing it again sometime

Ride 'em, cowboy

When Steve Freed, '76, was a freshman at Beverly, he developed an interest in reading about early frontier life. And he and a classmate, David Levine, '76, spent many weekends riding horses in Griffith Park.

During his freshman year at summer camp, he was given the responsibility for a string of 20 horses within the first two weeks. It was at summer camp that Steve developed an interest in roping on the Junior Rodeo Circuit.

At that point in his life he determined to ride broncos, bulls and also rope in the Professional Rodeo. Although he had not won a trophy belt buckle in his years of competition, some 24 years later, Steve decided to take a crash course in team roping. After suffering a serious hand injury, and with his hand still in a cast, he entered a team roping contest in Pomona, CA. He and his partner won the contest and Steve had his first place trophy buckle. It had taken the better part of 30 years since his Freshman year at Beverly. Since that time, he has won a number of trophy buckles. In 2004 Steve jumped up in class to the national circuit of the United States Team Roping Championship Series. Steve is still competing and entering various roping competitions. He is probably the only graduate of Beverly who has competed in the rodeo circuit.

Gershon, '80, explores a variety of Hollywood roles

Gina Gershon, '80, was featured on the cover page of the

May 17, 2007, Los Angeles Times Calendar Section.

Gina is a second generation Beverly High alum as her late father, Stan Gershon, graduated in the class of S'47. Gina's career has included motion picture roles in Pretty in Pink, Red Hear, Cocktail, Showgirls, What Love Is and many more. She has also appeared in a many TV shows including Curb Your Enthusiasm, The Batman, Ugly Betty, etc. She sings and also has co-written a book with her bother, Dann, entitled "Camp Creepy Time." It was published in late Spring, 2007. While at Beverly, Gina starred in the 1980 production of the Music Man and she was active in the Performing Arts Department.

For almost nine years Bud Alper, S'48, has been arranging for monthly luncheons for a group of friends from high school. He scouts locations, and each month the luncheon is held at a different location, although there have been duplications over the years.

The group looks forward to the monthly meetings, and it is amazing that there is always catching up and discussions of interest.

Here is the group at the 100th luncheon that was held in December, 2006, in West Los Angeles (Shel Schrager, S'48, Roy Kavin, S'48, Bob Marx, W'48, Herb Katz, S'48, David Kornblum, S'47, Joe Golden, S'48 couldn't make it).

Alum tells stories of his travels and home in Texas

Jack Ince S'46 was a 4-year Varsity letterman in baseball at Beverly Hills High School who went on to attend the University of Arizona.

Two years ago, Jack moved from Anaheim, CA to a retirement community in Georgetown, TX.

He has written a number of interesting and humorous stories of his experiences over the last two years. Read on for a sampling of them below.

Entry #1 - On the list of things to see one more time is the Bishop-Mammoth-June Lake-Convict Lake region.

The drive was great, as it is hard to beat California after a wet spring. Waterways were full and many different colorful flowers dotted the valleys.

I checked in to the Best Western in Bishop -- they have a nice stainless steel fish cleaning room, and are almost next door to Schacts of Shepard's bread fame. On the way to Convict I went by the country fair grounds. The parking area was crowded with campers and livestock carriers, but they were full of horses with long ears. None of the usual Rodeo banners -- just pictures of horses with long ears. Seems that it is Mule Days in Bishop which is a bigger event than the rodeo Oh well.

Onward to the beautiful Convict Lake. The lake is a crater lake with very steep sides. Ice covered mountains ring two sides and the inlet is still icebound, and there is always a breeze coming down the valley varying from ruffles to white caps. The temperature was about 75-80 degrees and very comfortable considering the lake is around the 7000 ft level.

Off to my private secret honey hole (somewhere between the two dead trees on the east side). You have to climb-slide down the hillside to find a spot in the rocks from where to fish. My area was about 6 sq ft with hardly any room to back cast with out getting hung up in the brush. The bottom of the lake is rock filled so retrieving your gear is about 50-50 with losing it.

I loaded my hook with some super rainbow glitter garlic stink Power Bait. I would have to been built like a chimpanzee to wash the stink off my hands.

The first cast was OK, and after 20 minutes I got a tap, and then another. No fish but I had to speed retrieve and rebait. This time I added a couple of local red ants to the mixture (a delicacy that could not be over looked by the Alper trout), and gave it a good toss.

I had requested that the local Chamber of Commerce add padding to the rocks because it hurt my skinny old butt. I found a semi comfortable position with my feet out of the water and a cool breeze cooling down the warm sun's rays and proceeded to wait out Big Alpy.

A few minutes later I got a gentle tug on the rod, and set the hook. Up jumped Big Alpy and showed his glorious colors back lit by the setting sun, a brilliant orange-red stripe on his silver side. Bear in mind that I had light 4 lb line on a very light rod. I could sense that this was going to be a battle every bit as adventurous as Hemmingway's Old Man and the Sea -- Old Man at Convict Lake - - or Big Alpy meets his Match. Up and down as Big Alpy sounded and leaped vigorously shaking his head as he tried to disgorge the hook. He seemed to have unlimited stamina as the minutes ticked by as he made run after run. Passing boats paused to watch the titanic struggle and shout words of encouragement as I tried to land what was bound to be the $1000 prize for the fish of the week. High fives, and more shouts of encouragements. I sensed Big Alpy was tiring and I was starting to gain on him so I grabbed for my net standing by.

A twig snapped and I awoke to

"Sorry to wake you ol' man but it is time to make your way back to your car". Damn -- Big Alpy won again just like he has done many times the the past. I am going to miss Big Alpy.

Entry #2 - Hi from "Sun City" Texas.

Hi y'all

We have been under Severe Weather Warnings for a couple of days, and it looks as if that will be changed to an Alert around noon

This is ice -- not snow -- on the roofs and the ground so you can't shovel it or what ever an insane mind would have you do.

The author in 1946

Jack Ince today

I did the tiptoe number when I went down the driveway for the papers. Pete (my dog and pal) is contemplating constipation vs. a chewing out.

I guess tonight will be a good night for adding anti-freeze to the circulation system. Too bad there are no fireplaces around here. Good books but no blondes either. My cleaning ladies have a habit of re-arranging the shelves of books by their height. So all unread books are commingled with the read ones. I tried turning the unread ones upside down, but they righted them all. Can't beat 'em.

The powers (?) that be in Sun City decided to close down all social and administrative activities and their 2 eating places. However the resident owned City Market and Restaurant stayed open and had a land office business. Friday and Saturday it was almost impossible to find a parking spot at the local super market. When you get in, many of the shelves were bare. I was going to make some soup and they were out of broth.

I tried again later when the crowd had thinned down and I was able to coerce a stock boy to bring out the remaining 4 quarts of broth from the stockroom which I shared with another shopper. I ended up making 8 quarts of chicken corn soup with a couple of yams thrown in. It turned out great and I was able to feed four neighbors.

The biggest problem I have with this storm lies in what to do with Don's rain gauge. I toyed with filling it with square ice cubes, but that would end the on going prank, so I just added water. I have him half convinced that the gauge needs to be re-calibrated for Texas windage.

Senior University is ramping up to start again and I have enrolled in 5 six session classes.

1. Decline of the West. The lecturer is a retired physician, economist, financial advisor, and renown authority on China -- although he has never been there. I attended his last course on China. He seemed to know what he was talking about and is a riveting speaker. I hope he defines West sometime during the class.

2. Cossacks, Icons and Caviar. Includes basic Russian language, customs, history, geography, food and drink, government, politics, military, holidays, religion, and travel travel and shopping in Moscow and St. Petersburg. Damn, I was hoping for some samples of caviar, vodka and Russian wanna be brides. Maybe with a leggy tennis player thrown in.

3. Great decisions -- foreign policy seminar. Topics are being chosen for the limited size class. Hopefully divided up between Republicans and Socialists and or Liberals. All weapons are checked at the door, and combatants are required to wear 12oz boxing gloves

4. Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers -- Songs, dances and comedy. After looking at what made them tick we are supposed to make comparisons between Astaire and Rite Hayworth, Cyd Charisse, and Jane Powell. The instructor better watch out as he could tread on my toes. I loved all his partners and dances. Well, maybe Rita showed a little heifer like qualities, but Cyd was sylph like and airy, and Jane was a little home spun. I know we will not find out why we were denied 10 years of performances and what the rift was all about, but I can hope.

5. Aristotle's Ethics

The only one I have doubts about is the Aristotle one as I have read parts of the required text, and really prefer Stuart Woods, Michael Critchedon or James Patterson. I guess a little book learning never hurt anyone. Beside I was never any good at foreign names.

That's it for today folks

Entry #3 - Yesterday my neighbor and I went to Llano for lunch. Coopers Smokehouse was recommended by his son who let us on to Walnut Creek hamburger place. Llano is a scenic 60 mile drive past Lake Buckananon. A typical small Texas town with about 3500 people and 3 times as many animals and 15 eating places.

We pulled into the parking lot -- 40 pickups, an RV and us. There were "Standing Line" signs along the length of the building and we followed them to 6 smoking pits 30' by 5' long with their lids down and wiffs of smoke curling up. One was open and doing business. 4 men tended the pit. Finally it was our turn and the pit chef asked what we wanted. The choices were pork ribs, beef ribs, several sausages, half chickens, prime rib roasts, goat, brisket and some thing else. I picked out a couple of hog ribs and a couple of inches of sausage. The chef unceremoniously dumped them on a bare plastic cafeteria type tray and passed my order off to another guy and I was escorted into the goodies line and given another tray. There was peach cobbler which is compulsory in every Texas barbecue joint and other staples. Beans, jalapenos and drinks were for your taking on stands around the room. Then came the cashier and I was given back my selections all wrapped up in red butcher paper complete with bar coded price label and a clean sheet of plastic coated paper which served as a plate.

After scooping up some beans (with many jalapenos floating on top) and filling my drink cup we looked for a place to light. There were 20 or more long picnic tables each holding at least 30 people. Judging from the hats most were cowboys and locals. Judging from the number of six shooters it must be hunting season. There were at least 20 game wardens. There was one couple who must have belonged to the large RV outside. All the women who ordered food outside ended up being takeout customers. In the time we were there the place emptied out and filled up again. Some business. As for the food it was about an 8. So much for Llano.

Entry #4 - Ah yes, I am in Texas and I can say with certainty that "It sure ain't LA".

First, this the most polite place I have ever seen. Kids say "Sir" and hold open doors for their elders. Amazing.

The pace is much slower except on the highways. Sure there are the slow pokes but there is also a different breed here. Women in their 30's bearing down on you in the biggest SUV's imaginable. They are good looking for the most part and I can just imagine them on painted ponies charging out of the gate to rope their heifers, throwing the critters to the ground and wrapping the piggin string around the hooves. Best to not get in their way, I think. In Sun City you have to be on the look out for the little old blue haired ladies tooling along in their dolled up golf carts.

If you are an aficionado of Cobb salads you had better get your fill in LA, because around here they never heard of the Brown Derby's version.(unfortunately). In fact eating out here is an adventure. Firstly many of the eating places only serve dinner on weekends or whenever they damn well please. I went to the bustling town of Walberg because I heard they had good German cuisine there. I found the recommend place to be closed until the weekend when they would have a German oomph pah pah band and be open for dinner. All other visible commercial places were shuttered, but around the corner was Dales Essenhaus,

"Home of the famous wallburger" with live music every Friday and Saturday nite. Wednesday nite save a buck on the wallburger. Around 5pm I pulled into the 25 car parking lot and found the only space available. I was driving the only non-pickup truck. What to expect?

Inside most of the tables had 4 men and 2 women-- never saw that configuration before, but it had its advantages because the waitress would go behind the bar and put 6 long necks (no one used glasses) into a old fashioned cardboard six pack with handles, and as she doled out the suds put the empties back in the container. I guess it was safer than a tray. I had brisket, pink cole slaw, the best damn pinto beans I ever tasted, served with sliced onion and pickles. All for $7, and enough to feed a couple of tables.

I now know why Texas has good football teams. These kids-young men are gigantic. By the way Conrad, do the Trojans play Texas this year??

Of course I had to get a car license and one for myself. It took less than 2 hours total to get a car inspection ($13) car registration ($170) and driving license ($24). That includes running around to 3 different places. Try that in LA.

The next adventure while waiting 6 days for the movers to appear (Saturday I hope) was to line 15 drawers. 15 cabinets, and a pantry. Diane said to use linoleum because it never has to be replaced, so I got 3 boxes of linoleum tiles and a paper cutter.

DO NOT ever attempt this task with an Anal Retentive person within talking or screaming distance. It is bad enough being a Virgo.

One thing I can say is if you think you got a drawer perfect look again because you must have measured wrong, but just in case you did get it perfect you will have more attempts to screw up. Also contact cement is just that-it adheres on contact -- no overs. I would also advise doing it while it is cool because beer or wine are not suitable refreshments in the course of the task -- especially if you have a patterned tile.

All in all, I think the move will be good for me once Pete and I get settled in, but I will continue to think of you guys and miss your company.

Two gun Jake

Entry #5 - My next door neighbor -- Don from IBM -- was saying that his son (an Austin cop) was mentioning a hamburger joint in the town of Rockne that we should check out. He said they were "cow pie" size and good.

OK, the first thing was to find Rockne on a map. The internet was no real help, AAA maps were no good, so I went to the library and got the reference librarian to help me find it. She took out the huge reference map and had to get a magnifying glass. To give you an idea -- Redrock was in boldface 10pt type. Redrock has 154 inhabitants. Rockne was regular type 6pt with no idea of residents.

We drove down this two lane "farm to market" road for 50 miles thru interesting rolling hills that is horse country. Saw a rodeo arena that could sit 30 people with a cowboy working out a cutting pony, so I turned into "Walnut Creek Ranch Trails and Camp-trail riding, camping, dance hall, arenas, cafe and barbecue, receptions, parties and catering" owned by Rusty Edwards. On the left was a tin outhouse (4 holer) all spiffed up with a new shiny roof and a huge black lab standing guard.

There were 10-11 tables in the weather-beaten wood eating area. Some old pictures hung on the walls. One was of the owner with his marshal's badge and nickel plated six shooter taken 30 years ago when he worked the Mexico border. He reminded me of Jim Arness and was Marshall Dillon's size, but wearing a big black Texas hat.

We introduced ourselves and he said the Don's son had called and told him to treat us well. Very friendly people.

We ordered 3 super Rusty melts on buns. The waitress, a winsome lass of 22 years conned us into having an order of Texas toothpicks which are wooden matchstick size jalapenos and onions in beer batter and deep fried with a side of ranch dressing. We finished those

Beverly turns 80

On November, 23, 1927, Beverly Hills High School was formerly dedicated. At that time, the school was a member of the Los Angeles School System and one of the speakers at the dedication was Susan M. Dorsey, the Superintendent of the Los Angeles School System. Dorsey High in Los Angeles was later named in her honor. It was not until 1935 that Beverly Hills formed its own school district., the Beverly Hills Unified School District.

When the school opened there were approximately 32 Senior B's who were to graduate in Winter, 1928. There were fewer Senior A's who graduated in Summer, 1928. The Junior Class included 100 students. The sophomore class included 192 and the Freshman class numbered 196. The faculty was composed of 32 teachers and one of the original teachers was Lowell Frost who was still teaching at Beverly several decades later.

In those days the school mascot was the Tartars. In 1931 John Guedel (a member of the Hall of Fame) was student body president and he did not care for the high school being known as the Tartars.

Because of the French-Normandy architecture of the school, Guedel decided that a more appropriate name would be the Normans. And it has been the Normans since that time.

Photographs of Beverly Hills in 1927/1928 show that the high school was surrounded by vacant land.

There were few homes to be seen near the high school. Of interest is that the oil well was in existence at that time and can be seen in one of the photos.

Also, when the school opened, the athletic field had not yet been completed. The school did have teams that included football, basketball, baseball, track, tennis and golf and that was it. There was also a Women's Swimming Club and Golf Club.

The first Watchtower was published in 1928 and included wood cut etchings that were glued in place. The book was some 140 pages and included a forward by Will Rogers (see page 27).

David Springer, '28, reminisces about Beverly's beginnings

David Springer '28 was born in 1912. He lived with his sister and parents in Beverly Hills near where the Beverly Wilshire Hotel now stands. He said that Beverly Hills High School was created by people who wanted to sell property. These people knew good buyers wanted good schools so they had a plan to build the best high schools..

David came to Beverly the first year it opened in 1927 as a junior. He remembers walking to school and seeing very few homes, just many lots that were up for sale.

Behind the school was a golf course and he said you could watch the golfers playing from the 2nd floor of the school. Where the track and field is today, it used to be a race track.

He said there were many students who lived outside of Beverly Hills but were from important families and were allowed to attend. David played center on the high school football team.

He remembers a couple of mothers that would put together weekend dances at their homes. He said the teachers and the principal (Wadsworth) were outstanding and he remembers a funny day in class when the children were being noisy and the teacher banged on the table and shouted, "Order!" A boy in the back row said, "a piece of pie and a cup of coffee please".

David Springer, '28, and his wife, Diana, in 1980

After Beverly, David went to Stanford and then on to Harvard Law. He was an administrative law judge under the Secretary of the Treasury and was chief trial counsel for Manila war crimes.

In 1943, he married Diana, an English girl, in Australia where he was stationed. He was later transferred to Manila where he started a tuna factory. Finally, although they never had children, they settled in Mocksville, North Carolina where he currently lives and owns a cattle farm.

He feels Beverly gave him a great education.

'28 graduate looks back

By Geraldine Swiler Terry
Class of 1928

Does anyone remember that the Rose Queen used to be selected from BHHS girls? Or that MGM used to scout for talent among our students?

I know, because MGM rushed me, but my mother refused to allow me to pose for publicity shots in a bathing suit, so that was the end of that.

Those of us in the first classes at BHHS felt like pioneers. I was thrilled to work on the school paper, which didn't even have a name for the masthead of its first issue October 28, 1927.

The new high school came together almost magically, with its societies and clubs, fully formed and functioning almost from the first day.

My most stimulating teacher was Miss Helen Darsie, who taught Social Sciences and woke me up. Isaac Mansell, my art teacher, set me on my way into a career of building beautiful houses and designing interiors and landscapes.

In my personal life the most important moment of all was when I met my dear husband Victor (to whom I've been married 75 years) at Miss Ryan's Cotillion on Wilshire Boulevard. He was a Hollywood High boy. It was a chance meeting and now we have 3 children and many lovely grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

I'll always be proud of being able to say I was one of the first graduates of Beverly Hills High School.

Rogers' advice for the first Beverly class

In 1928, Will Rogers wrote a forward for the first Watchtower, Beverly's yearbook. Portions of his humorous introduction are excerpted below.

I was asked to write a Foreword for the Beverly Hills High School Congressional Record. This is not really a Foreword, it's a Warning.

Every book or magazine should have a warning, the same as we have at railroad crossings where there are signs warning the trains to look out for cars...I want to warn parents especially for if they read this they will wonder "Why do we send them to school?" But if they don't read it, why, they will still think you are learning something.

Now, Beverly is a new school, and I am glad of that, for if you don't take my warning and go read this, you won't have to read about "Tradition." The school has absolutely no "Tradition." It was started to keep our children from going to Hollywood.

In fact, it cost us over a million dollars just to keep you out of Hollywood and its evil influences...I want you to know we had to move two oil wells to make room for [the high school.] We could enlarge the school, but it would interfere with the golf course. There are thousands of people learning to play golf to every one learning to read. You don't have to know about History to get along, but you certainly do have to know how to putt.

You all must be sure and got to college when you get out of high school...I think everyone ought to have a fine education, even if you can't make a living at it. It's good to know that you know more than the people that you have to ask for jobs from.

1930

Margaret Halvorson W'31 working at JPL, Alex combined his Margaret is still moving, and on September 17, she boarded the Silversia for the Mexican Riviera trip. Three of her children were with her. Her only problem in aging is her knees.

W.M. Dashiell S'31 He is still in the insurance business, conducting nation-wide programs for a major finance company. He retired two times but went back in the same slot. He enjoys the activity. He will be having his 60th wedding anniversary. He is in great health and is active. His sister, Marie, passed a few years back; she was from the class of '39. His brother, Jack passed three years ago. Both graduated from UCLA.

Alex Irving '31 Alex has been described as a scientist, aerodynamic engineer, shipbuilder, 'half model' builder and most of all a sailor. He enjoyed 55 years together with his first wife Winnie. With his second wife, Phyllis, they enjoyed 10 years together. Now Alex and Towers resident, Lilo Sonnenberg, enjoy traveling and cruising together at least three times a year to various places in the world. They recently embarked to Hawaii on the new Queen Elizabeth II. During WWII Alex was in charge of the wind tunnels of the Vultee Aircraft in Downey. After the war he was invited to work with the early space programs at Cal Tech's Jet Propulsion Laboratory where he enjoyed working on unmanned space-crafts. With his knowledge of aero-dynamics from passion to experiment, the ability to merge theoretical design construction of his yacht, Sparkle Sparkle has been currently resurrected and is beating boats again in the Port Townsend area. Alex has become renowned in making half model boats, which are now proudly displayed in the Balboa Yacht Club Model Room that he was asked to create for his yacht club located in Newport Beach. Alex still enjoys life to the fullest and now has offered to moderate the Towers Men's Club, which meets twice monthly on the second and fourth Saturday of the month. The Towers community is grateful for Alex's involvement with this new endeavor.

Helen Wolcott Bagley '32 Helen graduated when she was seventeen years old. She is ninety-two years old and she has a very good life. Helen will never forget BHHS and the City of Beverly Hills.

Jayne Barber Palmer S'32 Jayne (sister of Mary Louise Barber) will celebrate her 90th birthday on December 3rd. She has been living in Sherman Oaks for 50 years. She is enjoying her life of relaxation and has 5 married children, 7 grandchildren, and 8 great grandchildren

Lois Mullin Rafferty '32 Lois is ninety-two years old. She still lives alone, drives, plays bridge and is enjoying the golden years. She has very fond memories of her high school days and wants you to know that she thinks the Alumni Highlights is a great gift.

Dr. Stanford A. Furer W'33 Dr. Stanford is still working full time for the State as a Medical Consultant.

Dorothy Fredendall McNeil S'33

Dorothy lives in Goleta, CA. She is still playing pitch and putt golf. Dorothy still tries to stay involved politically because it is extremely important and it helps her keep motivated. Her husband is John McNeil whom she has been married to for 61 years. Dorothy has two children and three grandchildren.

James G. Berry '34 James and his fellow grads are waiting for 2009, so they can get together and celebrate their 75th anniversary.

Ella Boros Deutsch S'34 Ella is still going strong and is turning 90 in May. Her priorities are her family, including grandsons and their families. Ella has four beautiful great grandchildren, two boys and two girls. She is still doing peer counseling and is a Co-Lead for a Loss Support Group at Culver City Senior Center.

LaVerne Bond Hawkinson S'34 La Verne turned 90 on July 31st.

Her oldest son was born in Shanghai, China back in 1937 and her youngest, 51, honored her with a beautiful birthday celebration at the San Luis Obispo Country Club. Friends from Boston, Naperville, Colorado, the Bay Area, Washington and Oregon flew in as a surprise. LaVerne is very active in the Republican Party. The local McLintocks Saloon Restaurant gives the Pearl Harbor survivors a lovely dinner and program every December 7th. Her husband was aboard the U.S.S. St. Louis at the time. Her first husband was a graduate of the Naval Academy 1933, a Naval Aviator, made admiral and was the first aviator to fly over the U.S.S. Missouri during the signing of the peace and to land in Japan. As they greeted him he was asked to have tea. Her second husband was also a Naval Aviator.

Ann Cunningham Westland '34 Ann had a family gathering in Laughlin, Nevada. Her second granddaughter was awarded a scholarship at the West Texas A&M in Amarillo, TX.

John Stanton W'35 John is excited about attending the 75th year reunion of the W'32 Class of Hawthorne School on March 10, 2007.

Beverly Powel Applegate S' 35 Beverly lives in Apple Valley, CA. Her family will be taking her to celebrate her 90th birthday at the Beverly Hills Hotel this August.

Nancy Thompson Shirley S'35 Nancy is in touch with Ruth Warner Van Horn from Lancaster, PA and with her cousin Marycile White Moore from Newport Beach. This year, Nancy will have a family reunion with her five children, 10 grandchildren and 3 great grandchildren. They enjoy their annual time in San Juan Island, WA. Nancy is still performing with St. Martin's Drama Guild and in Woodland Hills Community Theater that was started by the Drama Coach Grace Barnes these many years.

Moyd C. Thomas '35 Moyd and his wife Marilyn went to Nagoya, Japan in September 2005. They attended Noritake Company's 100th Anniversary. Then they took a trip to Washington D.C. in October to attend the reunion of the Pilot Classes of 1944. After November, Moyd had health problems due to his heart and pulmonary disease. Moyd is using the walker due to weak legs but is hopeful.

Betty Lee Duncan Mott W'36 Betty Lee was editor of the Highlights in her senior year at BHHS. She owned and directed Early Childhood Education Pre-School in Santa Monica for thirty years. Betty Lee is a volunteer tour guide at the California Heritage Museum on Main Street in Santa Monica where she was a Founding Board Member.

Fred Barman S'36 Fred says "hello" to his S'36 and Beverly Vista friend Bob Thiene and his secret flame, Allison Boswell.

June Lindsay Clarke S'36 June is still living in Brentwood, CA. June took her family to England and to Edinburgh to visit the National Museum of Scotland last summer. Her sister, Marilyn Lindsay's (S'48) memory was honored by the St. Andrews Society of L.A. and her name was inscribed on the brass chain walk in the atrium of this museum.

Harrison Latta '36 Harrison has been on the UCLA Foundation/Board of Councilors since 1992.

Shirley Woodhouse Despot S'37 Shirley is enjoying retirement. She has wonderful children and grandchildren who keeps her hopping. Shirley is still painting portraits. Edith Wiesinger Gilbert '37 Edith turns 90 this year and is still writing books and articles on weddings and etiquette.

Thomas Earl Hughes S'37 Thomas will be celebrating his 65th wedding anniversary in December. He enjoyed the last Highlights.

Jane Friedenthal Brewster W'38 Jane is still plugging along and keeping busy.

Gloria Taylor Griffith S'38 Gloria is still in Morro Bay and enjoying her 2 great grandchildren.

Jack Irving S'38 Jack's company "Applied Research & Technology" is making good progress in designing water pumps for urban water distribution and air conditioning systems for cooking homes. Their objective is to conserve power and to minimize maintenance costs.

John C. Mackay S'38 John is still enjoying life on his Montana cattle ranch. He talks to fellow classmate Tim Fogal S'38 several times a year. Almost all his pals from BHHS 'S'38 are deceased.

Betty Beal Metzler S'38 Betty finds her life to be blessed by an attentive daughter and dear granddaughter who both live and work nearby. A grandson and his family also live and work within happy reach so that she has two great-granddaughters to enjoy. One son helps her maintain her home of 57 years and he manages a local nursery, while his twin brother teaches photography at the Idyllwild Arts Academy, where he and his 10 year old son enjoy the peace and pace of mountain living. Daily walks to the village, voracious reading, working crossword puzzles, and writing for the Christian Science publications keep her healthy, happy and out of trouble. Norma Louise McKenzie is her touchstone inspiration and best friend since they met at Beverly.

Donald Tait '38 Donald is still traveling, chasing girls, writing and developing his ranch in Frazier Park, CA. He regrets the loss of his friend, Pat Lory Peacock '38.

George W. Walker W'38 George is a life member of the Salvation Army Advisory Board, Chico Corps. George founded the George Walker Adult Rehabilitation Center which serves 30 men and 20 women in recovery from substance abuse, alcohol or drugs. This is a six months program at no cost to the client. George has been a Board Member for 34 years.

Al Woodill W'38 Al has been anchored in 90024 for many decades. From Moreno Dr. at BHHS, Westwood to the San Diego Freeway, they have been working on Santa Monica Blvd. After three years, it is about finished. It is amazing.

Virginia Griset '38 Virginia lives at The Ridge, a retirement community in Exeter, NH, near her youngest son's family. Brian and his wife, Addie, have two grown sons at college. Her older son, Robert, lives in Arizona, nears his sister, Virginia's eldest child, Suzanne. She and her husband, Charley, have one daughter, Elizabeth, who just turned sixteen. Virginia's husband, Merle, passed away four years ago and is at the veteran's cemetery in New Hampshire. Virginia has a spot reserved next to him. She just turned 86 and is still mobile. Brian and Addie take her out to dinner twice a week for her favorites, fried shrimp and spaghetti, and they visit with her every day. She keeps in touch with a few of her Navy pals and friends gained from her worldwide travels with Merle.

Homer Rydell W'39 Homer is the proud owner and driver of a beautiful 1981 Silver Spirit Rolls Royce. He waited all his life to own a Rolls and he just barely made it.

Charlotte Anderson '39 Charlotte is enjoying retirement and pursuing her research in 4th century Rome as it relates to the present situation.

Camille Allen Knickerbocker S'39 Camille is 85 years old but still young at heart. She has been married for 51 years and has six grown children, thirteen grandchildren and five great grandchildren. Camille and her husband just had a trip to Reno and to Michigan.

Fay Kabatnick Linden S'39 Fay is doing well. She has a good time with her four great-grandchildren.

She is always remembering with love and gratitude, Eunice Schmidt and Leah H. Moore.

Betty Bley Martin S'39 Betty thanks everyone for listening to her in the latest Highlights. She was disappointed that her name is misspelled. Also, the year was wrong; it should have been Summer 1939.

Doug McLaughlin '39 Doug and his wife moved in 1993 to Camano Island, Washington, south of the San Juan Islands. They look across sparkling blue water at a panorama of snow-capped mountains, framed by soaring evergreen trees. Doug recently wrote a book, Rambling Memories of a WWII Fighter Pilot, about growing up in Beverly Hills and later training and flying in combat off an aircraft carrier in the South Pacific. Doug served in the squadron in overseas on the USS Cabot.

Barbara Guedel Mills '39 Barbara is still in Morro Bay. Her family has grown and besides her five children she has six grandsons and one granddaughter whom she raised from birth. She has 12 great-grandchildren. Her brother, John Guedel, who was a student body president in the early 30s and was also honored into the Hall of Fame, passed away. Barbara was honored in 1938 by the Lector Society for her athletic ability. She also graduated from Beverly Vista in 1935, and attended El Rodeo and Hawthorne. She graduated from Santa Monica City College in '41 where she met her husband to be. They were married six months before Pearl Harbor. Her husband passed away 11 years ago.

Jean Patterson Wells S'39 Jean is still making it year round to Avalon on her "cruise" ship, the Catalina Express, with her little dog Toki. Every July her sister Pat rents a house and about 40 "cousins" show up for her happy reunion, as does Camille Knickerbocker every August. Jean joined them on August 18, 2006, with current "Highlight" news.

1940

B.J. Warfel Brew W'40 B.J. is enjoying life in Laguna Woods, CA. B.J. still loves traveling. She traveled to Belgium and Paris last year. B.J. also traveled to San Francisco, Texas and Tennessee. Lita Factor Kilpatrick '45 Lita's website is www.larkgardens.com.

Arnold Kornfield S '45 Arnold went on a couple river boat trips through the Netherlands and Belgium. They had beautiful but cool weather and he saw the best parts of both countries.

Bob Lewis S'45 Bob has three granddaughters, Roya '98, Madalynn '00 and Hannah Sadeghian '04. They are all Beverly graduates and his grandson, Eli, is at Horace Mann and won the state chess championship for kindergarten and first graders.

Robert C. Olshausen '45 Robert lives in Nevada City, CA and is looking forward to moving back to the foothills. He has eight grandchildren.

Robert Petkin S'45 Robert was lucky to go to Beverly High. He had such great teachers, Doc Williams, Dr Frost, Ruth Wheeler, Romaine Pauley and many more. His sister, Shirlee, and daughters Lauren and Janet were also blessed. He thanks Beverly high for making their lives better.

Bo C. Roos S'45 No changes to date. Bo is still looking for his fountain of youth.

Richard M. Sherman S '45 In 2005, Richard was inducted into the Songwriters Hall of Fame with his brother, Robert Sherman ('43). In 2006, Richard received the UNICEF gold medallion for writing "It's a Small World" and service to charities. On November 16, 2006, the stage musical version of the Disney film musical Mary Poppins opened on Broadway. In 1965, the Sherman brothers won two academy awards for the musical's score and the song "Chim Chim Cheriee." Richard still lives in dear old Beverly Hills with his wife, Elizabeth. In July of 2007 they celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary.

Robert L. Fox W'46 Bob and his wife, Valerie, have moved into the new home they built in the Pacific Palisades. Bob sees many friends from high school and regularly attends the Buddy Alper, 'S'48, monthly luncheon with 15 other Normans. In April Bob was honored by the Broadcasters' Foundation and inducted as a "Pioneer." The induction was held at the annual convention of National Association of Broadcasters. Bob and Valerie still own their second home in Carmel and enjoy the time they spend there.

Joan Bell Jaffe Lewis W'46 Joan enjoys rekindling with her still beautiful friends Amy Ewing Hart, Gini Widmann Wright and with some of the old cute boys from BHHS. Joan still has a passion for watercolor painting and writing.

Eugene C. Ross W'46 Eugene and his wife Lucila have been living in Crawford, NJ for forty three years. They spend half of the year in Cape Cod in Massachusetts.

Herbert Constine S'46 Herbert is just enjoying life in the Marina. He does lots of traveling, a little tennis and sees what everyone is up to. Last years Highlights was great.

Joyce Donna '46 Joyce is still enjoying life in St. Helena, still an artist. She has been traveling a lot to South America, Quebec, and the Panama Canal.

Barbara Ann Jeffries Hall, Ph.D. '46 Barbara is finishing a book on Covina for Arcadia Publishing. She enjoys traveling with her seven grandchildren.

Pierre A. Kern S'46 Pierre and Lindy just returned in February '07 from a beautiful cruise aboard the Endeavor by Lindblad and national Geographic to the Antarctica. What a pristine continent. Everything went great with the exception of the 45+ foot waves and gale force winds for two days and every direction crossing the Drake Passage and Cape Horn with the Pacific and Atlantic Oceans meet. Penguins galore, leopard seals, orca whales, etc. Lots of birds greeted them. The glaciers and icebergs were amazing. Not a trip for people that get seasick. They crossed the Antarctic circle, the equivalent line of the South Pole and kayaked 100 miles south of there in a beautiful cave. Pierre and Lindy are currently calving 100+ beef cows on their ranch in Oregon.

Carol Herrick Jauregui S'46 Carol is enjoying teaching Adult School, working out daily and entertaining her children. She has eight children and three of them are stepchildren. Retirement is not for her. Carol plans to go on a walking tour of Hungary and Poland along with a trip to do Genealogy in England and tour western Spain.

Armond Bud Lisle S'46 Bud continues to live in Indian Wells with his wife of 54 years, Kathryn. He enjoys the grandkids, occasional travel and USC football.

Barbara King Meier S'46 Barbara just loves reading the Highlights. It brings back sweet memories of years gone by. She awaits the next reunion.

Rosemarie Marchetti Smith '46 Rosemarie is now a widow. She was married for fifty three years. Rosemarie is staying active in the Trojan Guild USC Norris Cancer Center Associates, Women's Aux of Arthritis Foundation in Orange County and with the Crystal Cathedral Church. Rosemarie often sees Joyce Hubbard Hilliard from the BHHS days.

Carol Strauss Somers '46 Carol became a state-licensed Advocate for Medical & Care and works through The Center for Health Care Rights. She works as a Volunteer. Carol loves doing this. Her husband Bob is still working freelance and they both love to play golf and lots of bridge. Carol's three Australian grandchildren visited for two weeks in 2006.

Lester Wertheimer S '46 Lester has just had his first novel published. AT SEA: Being an Eccentric Voyage of Discovery in the Company of Misfits, Rogues, and Vagabonds, is the story of a discontent eighteen-year-old who abandons his conventional life and ends up aboard a rusty tanker heading for ports unknown. Based on his real life experience after leaving BHHS, AT SEA is filled with humor, suspense, and adventure, as our hero loses his innocence and finds his way back to a meaningful life. Lester continues to practice architecture, write, travel, and regularly see a handful of former classmates.

Kenneth Bleifer, M.D. W'47 Kenneth is semi-retired as of September 15, 2006. He is a Medical Director of Action Home Health Agency. Kenneth is a grandparent of twin girls.

Marcia Minter Carpenter W

'47 and Ronald Carpenter S '47 Ron and Marcia will be celebrating their 57th year of marriage in September. They are still living in West L.A. and are enjoying their large (and noisy!) family. They have nine grandchildren and 2 great grandchildren. They find lots of reasons to all get together for birthdays, anniversaries, etc.

John A. Fox W'47 John has been pleasurably living the rural form of life in the Northern California for the past 36 years. He is happy creating clean electricity, practicing sustainability and art and leaving a small footprint.

Kelly Green Frank W'47 Kelly is having a fun time dividing her year between Rancho Mirage in fall and winter and Whitefish Montana in its two months of spring and summer. She has five grandchildren scattered in Colorado and California. She and Ralph are still active and exercising. Last year her copy must have fallen off the desk because she was missing.

Ginny Jones W' 47 Ginny liked reading about the people from her age group who are still working to improve the world. She would like to thank both Dick Rowson 'S'43 and Audrey Speights, S'47 for their continuous work on this cause.

Diann Carlisle McCarthy W'47 Diann is presently living in Tarzana, CA. Her husband Tom McCarthy'45 passed away August 2003 from Parkinson's and Alzheimers. She sold their home at Morning Side Country Club in Rancho Mirage when her husband became ill. Diann loved golf and misses all her friends in the desert as some were BHHS classmates. She was the founder of ladies golf group called Nines Enough Group at Morning Side Country Club and co-founder of the Desert Niners. Diann has two children and four grandchildren. Her son Tom Jr. '72 like her husband is in the motion picture business. Tom Sr. was E.V.P. of Columbia pictures and Tom Jr. is E.V.P. Theatrical and Television Sound Editorial. Diann hopes the class of '47 will have a reunion soon.

E. Tim Hampton W'47 Tim and his wife, Diane celebrated their 54th wedding anniversary. They went on a ski trip to Mt. Baker Ski Resort last January. Tim and Diane will be traveling back to their home during the 1970s in Valdez, Alaska to attend the wedding of their grandson, Brenden Barnum to Stella Griffin.

Mary Lou De Wolf Amadon S'47 Mary has just returned from a 18-day tour of China. She is glad to be back in the U.S.

Oliver Berliner S'47 Oliver has recently been awarded his second patent and two more are pending. He is working the same as before but it just takes him longer to do it. With record sales down another 20%, his music company has had to rely upon other uses for their songs. They just put one of their 50 year old hits into an Italian film and its sister song is entering its third year of radio/TV commercial use in Puerto Rico. That same chachacha beat was the one that launched a Proctor & Gamble commercial that has been running for seven years and ends with "Chachacha...Charmin."

Sally Ann Green Frank S'47 Sally is still enjoying an active and good life in Rancho Mirage with husband Ralph. They escape the summer heat in Whitefish, MT.

Robert Fuller S'47 Robert and his wife Betty have spent 2 weeks in Cancun with friends from Glendale and South Pasadena.

Later in the spring, the couple took a cruise from Monte Carlo to Copenhagen and visited friends in Bremen, Germany. Shortly after the holidays they plan to travel to Northern California to visit their sons and grandsons. Their daughter lives in Dewey, AZ, a mile away from Robert and Betty.

Gloria Rae Goldfarb S'47 Gloria is enjoying joyfully participating in yoga and Tai Chi classes furnished by Beverly Hills High School Adult Education and getting in prim conditioning in her own home to resume her passions of golf, tennis and education. She is in semi-retirement from her constant career goals in Beverly Hills.

Nancy Noble Holley '47 Nancy is still healthy and happy and glad about it. She sees friends, walks around the reservoir. She occasionally goes on short trips, plays bridge and enjoys family and friends. She hopes all is well with everyone else.

Dorothy Quist Lundquist '47 Dorothy continues to live and substitute teach in Corona, CA. She has ten grandchildren and two great grandsons. Dorothy's companion for fifty five years Reed Lundquist died of cancer in 2006. Dorothy's eldest son, Chris has a medical practice in Brea. Her son Mark is a Bishop in Clovis, CA and her youngest son, Jon, has a Dentistry practice in Pennsylvania.

Toby R. Madison S'47 Toby's plans to return to England did not materialize and he is now teaching English as a second language at an elementary school and is back on the faculty at the University of Florida teaching International Finance and Latin American Studies as electives. It is good to be back in academia. He also worked with professional theatrical productions at the Gainesville Hippodrome State Theatre. The bard called after many years off the thespian stage.

Joan Cox McKenna '47 Joan gets together for lunch every four to six weeks with Barbara Terman Fox, Joanne Rice Killam and Margene Morris Pyeatte.

Mary Downs Mowry S'47 Mary and her husband Russell have enjoyed a fantastic trip to the gorgeous Canadian Rockies (Lake Louise and Jasper National Park) in August. Following that, she cruised the Inland Passage on the Diamond Princess ending in Anchorage, just in time for the ruckus with luggage inspection of all gels, etc.

Jack Shoemaker S'47 Jack and Louise have been married 52 years and live in Rolling Hills, CA. They're fortunate to have their three married children and nine grandchildren, eight of them boys, living nearby on the Palos Verdes peninsula. Jack spends most of his time maintaining the ranch and doing projects to improve the property. Though he gave up competitive tennis years ago, he enjoys hitting balls with family and friends at least once a week. Jack and Louise play a lot of golf and bridge and are blessed with good health. They look forward to his 60th BHHS reunion.

Audrey J. Blesoe Speights S'47 Audrey continues to enjoy special time with her seven great-grandchildren. She finds tremendous pleasure in counseling inner-city youth aged 17-20. Audrey is a member of the Museum of Tolerance and The African-American Museum. She takes her students to both museums on a regular basis to ensure awareness of the atrocities committed against the Jews and against the Black slaves. She looks forward to the next reunion of the class of S'1947.

Robert Cherniss W'48 2006 was a busy year for Bob and Patty with their trip to Australia and New Zealand, a Navy reunion in Wisconsin and a week at their time share in Branson, Mo. While preparing for the "Down Under" trip, they did get to visit with friends and relative in So. California before leaving L.A. International. 2007 started out with the arrival of great grandson #3, Zachery Noah Cherniss, born to grandchildren Chris and Virginia in Corpus Christi, Texas, 20 January 2007. Bob and Patty went to Holland on a Riverboat Cruise in Holland and Belgium at tulip time and have plans to go to the annual Navy Reunion this year in Penn. and back to Branson for their 17th year. They were pleased to have their Lance CPL grandson visit on liberty from the Naval Base at Bangor, WA where he is in HQ Co. USMC. Bob is still working as a sub-contractor on construction jobs for commercial buildings, works out at a gym three times a week and he and Patty, besides their travels, usher at a local community playhouse and are patrons at several other theatres.

Judy Steinberg Alpert S'48 Judy has great times with all her family in Richmond. She has grandkids from 3-19 years old. She travels and parties. Also she is working in the real estate market which is still hot in that area.

Donna Weiss Barnett S'48 Donna has a fabulous life in Boca Raton, FL. Donna has three children. Her eldest son, Steve was a car dealer and is married to Stacy and they have a 10-year old son, Brian. Her son David, lives in Michigan and is in the electronics business. Donna's son, Jim lives five minutes away from her in Boca Raton, is a CPA, is married to Julie and have two children, Michael and Amanda.

Martha Purvis Boyd S'48 Martha sees the Highlights as a fabulous book of wonderful people and memories. BHHS was, is and always be the best. She thanks you all for the memories.

Robert Dozier S'48 Robert extends his regards to his old girlfriends who may still be alive. Onward T.E.C.

Beverly Shane Firestein & Chester Firestein '48 Chester and Beverly celebrated their 56th year of marriage with 2 major trips—3 weeks in Italy in May and a cruise in October that took them to Hong Kong, Vietnam, Cambodia, Bangkok and Singapore. The highlight was the visit to Angkor Wat. They love being retired.

Nanette Howe Suihus Kolar '48 Nanette moved to Prescott in August of 2004. She remarried in 2004, and still has her ten acre ranch in Springville, California that she visits twice a year. She goes on cruises four or five times a year to Europe, South Africa Asia, Central and South America. In between are Alaska and Colorado. She liked the 50th reunion in 2004 and is looking forward to another one. She thanks everyone for keeping in touch

Robert Marx S'48 Robert is now retired. Has been married to Gilda Marx for 35 years, has 5 children and 3 grandchildren. His resume is: five years as associate producer and director at Screen Gems, eight years as architectural designer and builder in Palm Springs, five years in insurance and security sales and 23 years as a manufacturer of women's exercise wear. He still plays tennis, bridge and travels a lot and goes on cruises. He is currently the Chairman of the Board of Governors of the City of Hope.

Robert Moher S '48 Robert is enjoying retirement. He does a bit of travel, plays bridge, and walks his dog a couple times a day to stay healthy. His marriage with Nancy for 45 years is great and their five grandchildren are wonderful. He says that, "Life is good."

Tom Newmark S'48 Tom keeps busy doing the same old things in new and unusual ways with the same old people.

Charles E. Riskin, M.D. '48 Charles is wishing you the best of happiness, contentment and good health.

David V. Schweitzer '48 David built a new home at Toscana Country Club, Indian Wells, CA after fifty years in the Palm Desert area. He sees Skip Taft, Don McKibbin and Bill Manning from time to time.

Margot Wiesinger Smith '48 Margot had a great time at the world social forum in Venezuela in January. Margot believes that Chavez is really helping the poor. She then took her daughter and 2 granddaughters (ages 17-19) to Greece, toured the islands and Athens and Istanbul. Margot serves as convener for the Berkeley Gray Panthers. The Berkeley Gray Panthers have 200 members who like to make their views known. They demonstrate and rabble rouse. Check out her webpage www.offcentervideo.com.

Norm Snyder 'S'48 In June 2006, eleven members of the classes of Summer '48 and Winter '49, along with Dennis Healy, Loyola High S'48 and their wives, met for a two day mini reunion in Napa Valley. They included Frank Cavignac W'49, Alan Barry W'49, Dick Jones S'48, Dennis Healy, Al Weinert S'48, Herb Katz 'S'48, Bill Tackaberry W'49 and Norm Snyder S'48. The occasion was "we are all 75 or 76 and may not have too many more opportunities to see one another." Some in the group had not seen or talked to others during the 58 years since their graduations. Obviously a lot of catching up was done over the two days. Grant Peniston and his wife Nancy, Saint Helena residents, suggested the reunion and made plans and dinner reservations. Brad Jeffries and his wife Dorothy, who have a second home in Saint Helena, hosted a lovely cocktail party on the first night which proved to be a wonderful way to get to know long time friends again.

Lynne Sussman Braiman '52 Lynne and her husband, Mickey, are living in Marina Del Rey and have a second home in Rancho Mirage. Not much traveling this year—only Cuba. They have spent more time in the desert and visiting with their children and grandchildren. Lynne still keeps in touch with Mumsey Neimirott and Hal and Sheila Rimer in the desert.

Lea Tabor Burman S'52 Lea is retired and is living happily in Encino. Lea and her husband enjoy spending time with their children, grandchildren. They will be celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary in September 2007.

Julius H. Grollman '52 Due to medical illness Julius is semi retired and will go back to his practice only if he recovers enough. His practice has been primarily at Little Company of Mary Hospital in Torrance, CA. He is also a Clinical Professor in Radiological Sciences at UCLA. There has been a little travel of which his trip (with wife Alexa) to San Francisco to visit their granddaughter who is attending SF State University stands out. Their 3 children are naturally all grown and doing well. Their 7 grandchildren range from 6 to 21 years of age.

Maxine Mirisch Siegel '52 Maxine is of 3 generations of Beverly graduates. She, her three kids and her granddaughter Jodie Siegel ('05) all graduated from BHHS. Maxine and her husband will celebrate their 50th in June. They have traveled a good deal of the time as her husband, Jerry, is retired. Her best friend in high school, Nadia Pastor Silverman, is still one of Maxine's closest friends.

Peggy Albin Stouffer '52 Peggy and Art have been married for 46 years. They have three children and six grandchildren. Their sons are in business together, running Digital Foundry, in Tiburon, CA. Their daughter runs a yoga center and hotel in the highlands of Guatemala in Lake Alitlan. Peggy was a docent at the Asian Art Museum in S.F. but retired after 15 years. Now she is still docenting in the Art Center in Palo Alto. Her interests are classical music and classical ballet and reading. She had an interesting life living in the east for 25 years, in Tokyo for four years and now Northern California for 15 years. Her boys live in S.F. and Tiburon with their families. They are in good health and are grateful for that. She was happy to attend her 50th class reunion a few years ago. She has traveled a great deal but found it more challenging with every security measure added. She sees a huge difference with U.S. citizens' popularity overseas today compared when she traveled in the 60's.

Barbara Holt Wallmark '52 Barbara has lived in Palm Springs for 38 years and would love to hear from the group that lives down there, including Sun City, and Palm Desert.

Darren Bramen '86 Darren continues to enjoy the stark contrast of life in the suburban East after moving from West LA to Philadelphia in 1997 to attend Wharton for an MBA. Once in Pennsylvania, he grew an affection for a city and region (the Delaware Valley) widely considered the step-city to much bigger, better-known siblings New York and Washington DC. In 2000, he married his sweetheart from Penn (Rebecca) and they settled down in one of the area's well-groomed western suburbs. They have two beautiful little girls. Darren became a partner in a very successful multi-family wealth management firm (Veritable, LP) which he joined fresh out of school. He still marvels at how little traffic they have (the ability to get anywhere in ½ hour), the vast open spaces and deciduously treed landscapes, the slow pace of change and the low cost of everything. Not to mention that contractors show up on time. On the other hand, the time he spends in LA with family or at their home in Palm Springs visiting friends (like Dan Fried '86) remind him of the ever-evolving world that is Southern California. Just as he enjoys his quiet life in PA, Darren misses all the action in California too.

Vintage Friends travel far and wide to be together

The Vintage Friends (mostly from the classes of '46) gathered for their bi-annual meeting at the Newport Beach Hyatt on May 8, 9 and 10th.

Special mention should go to Conrad Schweitzer, S'46, and his wife, Diane, who make all of the arrangements and contact all of the attendees. Dean Hanson, W'46, flew from Washington, D.C. Dean had been with the CIA for decades and kept the group enthralled with some stories of his escapades. Dick Kindelon arrived from Olympia, Washington. He and his wife, Carolyn, recently relocated from Honolulu where they had resided for decades.

On May 8, the group met for cocktails and then were taken by bus to the 5 Crowns restaurant for dinner. On the morning of May 9, everyone boarded a yacht for a pleasant cruise around Newport Harbor. The next day, May 9, there was golf and a visit to the nautical museum. That evening, dinner was held at the Newport Sports Museum. Per usual, Dick Kindelon regaled everyone with his humorous stories and jokes.

High school players put on charming 'How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying'

Jonathan Weiss, '08, takes the stage as Womper.

This year, The Performing Arts Department of the high school presented as the Spring Musical, "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying." The musical was previously presented at Beverly in 1978 and 1988

Once again, the production was outstanding and the students were wonderful and combined singing, dancing and acting in a professional manner. The set designs were colorful and imaginative.

There are dozens of students involved in the backstage operation that include stage managers, production coordinators, lighting directors, electricians, sound engineers, carpenters, make up artists, publicity directors and on and on. It takes a great deal of work and coordination to pull it all together.

Each year, a number of alumni attend the Spring Musical and the proceeds of the alumni ticket purchases are divided evenly between the Performing Arts Department, the Alumni Scholarship Program and the Alumni Association.

We urge you to attend next year's Spring Musical. Your ticket purchase is tax deductible. If you are interested in attending next year's musical, please contact us at BHHSAlumni@yahoo.com or you may call the Alumni office at (310) 551-5100, Ext. 8219.

Also, all attending Alums are invited to attend the Hall of Fame inductions which are held about an hour prior to the musical. The inductions take place upstairs in the area adjacent to the library.

Each year, the audience is overwhelmed by the Spring Musical. It is a wonderful evening of entertainment and fun and nostalgia. Alums should make it a priority to attend the event next year and each ensuing year.

The Alumni Association has cooperated with the Performing Arts Department in selling tickets to the event and proceeds of the tickets sold by the Alumni Association are divided equally between the Performing Arts Department, the Alumni Scholarship Fund and the Alumni Association.

Beverly athletes shine

By Carter Paysinger '74
Athletic Director

The Beverly Hills High School athletic program had a fantastic year, with all 23 of our varsity sports represented in the CIF-SS playoffs.

Girls' tennis, girls' volleyball, football, boys' tennis and boys' golf all won their respective league titles. Our boys' and girls' cross-country, boys' and girls' soccer, baseball, boys' volleyball and our lacrosse teams finished second in their respective leagues.

Our boys' waterpolo, girls' basketball, softball and girls' waterpolo teams were third-place finishers. Our boy's basketball team earned a birth into the playoffs as a wild card team finishing 4th in their league.

We have a few seniors going on to continue their athletic careers at the college level. Ashley Menzies will be attending Stanford University on a track scholarship for the 400 meters, Bettina Shore will be attending Syracuse University and competing in girl's volleyball, Brandon Kim and Trevor Charlston will be attending the University of Penn and competing on their football team.

Deborah Frantz will be attending American University and competing in girls' volleyball and Andrew Hopp will be attending and playing water polo at UC Santa Cruz.

Performing Arts Department soars to new heights

By Joel Pressman '67
Performing Arts Director

It's been a year of milestones for the Performing Arts Department, starting with the BHHS directorial debut of drama teacher Josh Butchart, whose concept of Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night" beautifully slipped the play into the Los Angeles night club scene, bringing a fresh approach to the production by our Theatre Arts Workshop and our Technical Theatre crews. The play was produced by drama teacher Herb Hall, with technical direction by Annie Terry, and played to packed houses in the Salter Family Theatre.

Our instrumental music program was bursting, with instructor Richard Farmer responsible for six different ensembles - three bands (making a 140-piece marching band), two string orchestras, and our drumline. The Marching Band performed for the 100th anniversary of the City of Beverly Hills, and the band and the Chamber Orchestra were chosen to perform at Disneyland in February. The BHHS Drumline made it to the finals of the Southern California Percussion Alliance, placing 9th out of 40 in only their 2nd year in competition.

In April, the Minnesingers received 1st Place Gold Medal as Outstanding Women's Chorus at the Heritage Music festival, Williamsburg. They also received the Adjudicators' Trophy for exceptionally high marks festival-wide, coupled with another invitation to Heritage's Festival of Gold in New York next year. Soprano soloist Roxana Soroudi received the Maestro Award for distinguishing herself as a soloist, and the Minnesingers were awarded the Spirit of Williamsburg Award for the ensemble which best represented its school and community - essentially an award for being great ambassadors and great people.

A week later, the Madrigal Singers were the top scoring group in the Heritage Festival of Gold in Chicago. A panel of three distinguished choral musicians awarded them top marks in a field of outstanding choirs from the United States and Canada - in order to participate, each chorus had to have won a previous festival with exceptionally high scores. The 17 participating ensembles performed together at Chicago's Symphony Hall, the magnificent home of the Chicago Symphony, and Madrigals, by virtue of being the 1st Place chorus, were chosen as the final ensemble of the concert. Singers Angela Nazarian, Julie Cho, Kevin Reese and Joshua Zieve performed in the Honor Choir which was made up of outstanding singers from each ensemble. Clinician Doreen Rao was almost speechless when she came to the stage to evaluate the ensemble. She described the Madrigals' artistic performance as "life-changing!"

Credit for the choral ensemble's success is shared with our PTA and BHEF, which again this year helped to fund our outstanding staff accompanist, Brian Michaels, who works with all of our classes.

Filling out the rest of the school year are the busy concert season in December, where choral and instrumental See ARTS, page 62

Science and Technology Center ready to open

Beverly Hills High School is excited to open the new $30 million Science and Technology Center (STC) for the 2007-2008 school year!

Both the Science and the Math Departments are moving into the new building. The building, which broke ground in November, 2005, is scheduled to be finished in August, 2007.

Twelve laboratory classrooms and eighteen regular classrooms are designed to contain the latest educational technology including SmartSlates, LCD projectors, document cameras, and Smart podiums.

These classrooms were designed with extensive input from the science and math teachers who will use them.

In addition to the classrooms, the building will contain a fully-wired lecture hall and a technologically advanced multipurpose room (that can be used for meetings or professional development).

The courtyard of the building will have benches available for student use and the stonework contains a repeating mathematical pattern titled "Man and Nature."

The district has been working with both departments to ensure that the teachers are fully trained on the technology incorporated into the building. Two full days of in-services will allow teachers to have practical experience with the technology before the building opens.

The District and BHEF have naming opportunities available for this wonderful new building!

If you are interested in making a donation to support this exciting new building, please contact BHEF/Dev Hankin, '81, at 310-557-0651 or email DevHankin@aol.com.

Court rules in favor of district in 'oil well lawsuit'

The Beverly Hills Unified School District has won a second ruling in favor of its motion for summary judgment from Judge Wendell Mortimer of the Superior Court of California, County of Los Angeles, in a series of cases related to oil wells and drill sites near Beverly Hills High School.

The court previously ruled in favor of all defendants including the District and the City of Beverly Hills in a motion for summary judgment based on medical causation for only the 12 initial trial plaintiffs.

The second ruling in the district's favor on all the plaintiffs' claims is based on a finding by Judge Mortimer that the District is also not liable under the California governmental liability statutes.

In today's decision, the court states: "Under Government Code, Sections 835(b) and 835.2 the public entity must have actual or constructive notice of a dangerous condition of public property before liability can be found. Even after these lawsuits were filed and extensive investigation by both sides, there is no proof that a dangerous condition exists, or that the School District was on notice."

Said School District Superintendent Kari McVeigh: "Today's victory effectively moves Beverly Hills Unified School District out of harm's way. These lawsuits have been a burden for years, diverting attention and budget from our primary task of educating our students and preparing them for the world ahead. The health and safety of our children, as we move them along that path, demands constant vigilance, but the real mission and goal of the School District is learning. Today's legal victory allows us to return to that task with real vigor and confidence."

New superintendent joins Beverly community

Kari McVeigh's belief in working in a school district where the goals and values speak to her has taken her from San Francisco to Boston and all the way back to California to become the new superintendent for the Beverly Hills Unified School District.

In her inaugural speech to the community, McVeigh compared what she described as her call to teaching to the same overwhelming desire actors, artists and musicians often express.

"Teachers really don't have a choice," McVeigh said. "We are compelled to be educators."

It was the district's goals and values that attracted McVeigh and convinced her to apply after spending five years in the San Diego Unified School District.

"The belief statement on the web page spoke to me personally," McVeigh said. "Beverly Hills Unified School District truly believes in establishing a professional learning community based on collaboration and accountability to improving student performance."

McVeigh said she was drawn to the district because of its hands-on approach and relationship with the community.

"The district believes that staff working together and with the community can create a culture and practice of continuous improvement, resulting in improved student performance and improved conditions for teaching and learning," McVeigh said. "All of these beliefs were stated in the district's mission and belief statements and echoed by the board, and these beliefs mirror my own. What a perfect match."

McVeigh started her career when she graduated from San Francisco State University in 1976 and took a teaching job in the Clark County School District in Nevada. McVeigh said that at first, she was unhappy in Las Vegas and missed California, but the rapidly growing district needed someone with experience to help open new schools, and they chose her.

In 2000, after spending 23 years in the same school district, McVeigh said new administration was bringing about changes in the school system that she did not fully support, so she looked for a school with values that interested her.

She then took a position with the project for Whole School Change in Boston.

"What attracted me to it was what they were doing over there and the reform," McVeigh said.

After spending nearly two years there, the curriculum again began to change and McVeigh was once again drawn to a reforming district. She moved back to the West Coast to take a job in the newly reforming San Diego Unified School District.

The five years McVeigh spent there were in the midst of District Superintendent Alan Bersin's controversial school reform.

While working there as Assistant Superintendent, McVeigh was in charge of coaching elementary and middle school principals to create an in-school accountability plan. The plan was to educate the school leaders so that they would be better able to educate their staff and in turn their students.

"You're leading people where you want to see them go and also where they want to go," McVeigh said.

McVeigh said around the time the new Superintendent Carl Cohn replaced Bersin, she felt drawn to Beverly Hills, which has the size to make some educational plans more workable than they were in San Diego.

She is already working to make Beverly Hills her new home and become a part of the community. Instead of going into the job with any set changes in mind, McVeigh said she hopes to commit her first three months to learning the area and the schools' strengths, as well as the concerns of the teachers, parents and students.

"The biggest thing I'm going to be stressing is listening and learning," McVeigh said.

Alumni Assoc. awards scholarships

By Lilly Lewis '74
Chair, Scholarship Committee

The Beverly Hills High School Alumni Association is the single largest sponsor of college scholarships to deserving, graduating BHHS seniors. In 2007, the Alumni Association awarded six scholarships of $2,000 apiece, as it has done for many years. These grants were made possible by your generous contributions, including especially generous contributions from BHHS Alumni Michael Libow, '81, and Gary Dordick, '80, who have each contributed $10,000 to establish scholarships in their respective names of $2,000 a year for 5 years.

Scholarship recipients represent a mix of students including successful athletes, academic decathlon winners, Science Olympiad finalists, musicians, journalists, artists, and others, all of whom have balanced demanding academic schedules and a dedication to public service. Award winners are selected on the basis of a personal statement, two letters of recommendation, and their high school transcript by the Board's scholarship committee consisting of chair Lilly Lewis, '74, and committee members Candace Chen, '87, and Elyse Rothstein Beardsley, '76.

The Alumni Association has recently broadened its mission to include the funding of selecting departments and programs at Beverly. In the past four years, the Association has sponsored an alumni evening at which guests attended the school's annual Spring Musical and a pre-show party celebrating the induction of our new Hall of Fame Members. This year, the party preceded the musical How To Succeed in Business, and your contributions and attendance enable the Association to donate $1,000 to the school's award-winning Performing Arts Department.

JVS honors Chuck and Betty Wilson

Chuck Wilson has served for over 25 years on the Jewish Vocational Services Board and was President from 1992 - 1994.

Both Chuck and his wife Betty, S'46, are dedicated supporters of the JVS Scholarship Fund, which to date has awarded nearly $3 million to Jewish students in financial need.

A lifelong Beverly Hills resident, Betty Wilson was encouraged by Chuck's commitment to JVS to join the Board and later become Chair of the Scholarship and Community Services Committees.

A UCLA graduate, Betty served on the Beverly Hills Board of Education from 1983-91. Their son Timothy ('75) also graduated from Beverly High.

Your class notes are a must!

Almost one half of the Alumni Highlights is comprised of Class Notes and Obituaries.

Robert Fox

Several years ago, the entire Alumni Highlights totaled slightly over 30 pages. Last year, Class Notes and Obits totaled 35 pages. Without Class Notes there would not be much of an Alumni Highlights.

Class Notes serves as the glue that hold us all together and keeps us in touch with one another. You would be surprised as to how many alums get in touch with the Alumni Office in order to obtain an address for a former classmate about whom they have read in the Highlights.

We have found that in addition to requesting Class Notes from you in the annual edition of the Alumni Highlights, it is also necessary to send out a letter to alums after the first of each year in order to continue to request class notes and contributions. For some reason we generally hear from about 50% more people from the letter than we do from the Highlights. Because of this, we will continue to send a letter to you after the first of the year.

Once again, we are enclosing a free standing letter in this Highlights (as we did last year). Last year, we did this and the response was better than having you tear out a page of the Highlights in order to send in class notes and a contribution.

This year, we are listing all contributors by category and also by class year under each category. The list includes close to 1,500 alums. We would like to see that doubled...or more.

Each year, our mailing list increases as we now have control of our database. That database includes about 18,000 alums. We receive a number of corrections each year and it is important that you notify us of any changes in addresses, etc.

As mentioned in the past, the Alumni Association is self-supporting. We depend upon your contributions. None of the officers or board members receive any remuneration although our executive director receives a salary. And, of course, the association pays for the printing and mailing of the Highlights.

Due to more than doubling the size of the Highlights, those costs have almost doubled compared to some five years ago. The cost of paper and mailing has also increased.

PLEASE - SEND US YOUR CLASS NOTES AND A CONTRIBUTION.

PRINCIPAL: Continuing Beverly's rich traditions

include our on-going commitment to academic excellence as we boast an Academic Performance Index (API) score of 820. The API is derived primarily from the content standards testing done each spring. This score puts Norman Nation in the top 3% of all public high schools in the state of California. Now doubt, our 21 commended National Merit Scholars and 12 finalists helped to boost those scores.

Beverly Hills has a long tradition of supporting programs and this year is no exception. What may be unusual, however, is that our programs have also taken on an international appeal, as well. We recently hosted a dance troupe from Beverly's sister city Cannes, France. In March, an Israeli delegation will be visiting for two weeks as part of a high school twinning program sponsored by the Jewish Federation.

Another program receiving continued support is our now thriving peer mediation program that is a student-driven conflict resolution program emphasizing the principles of cooperation, confidentiality and neutrality that gives students the tools to work through conflicts in a peaceful and respectful manner. This program is in line with the Beverly Way, the district's character education statement.

In athletics, I am pleased to announce that every single varsity squad has sent a team to the CIF playoffs this year - a feat rarely accomplished by any single school in the Southern Section of the California Interscholastic Federation. The support for athletics has grown tremendously. In fact, thanks to the efforts of alumni Steven Fenton and Josh Gross, the Beverly Hills Athletics' Alumni Association has been formed and promises to be one of the premier support groups in the school.

The performing arts department continues to dazzle audiences on and off site. The Choral Groups performing to critical raves throughout the city and are also embarking upon music festivals in Chicago and Virginia this spring. And, of course, there is no better way to celebrate the alumni induction evening than with an excellent rendition of How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying.

There are so many more wonderful happenings at Beverly this year - too many to mention in this brief missive. In closing, as stated in my opening paragraph, I have been an educator for 21 years and have participated in many fine programs. I have seen many wonderful schools over the course of my career. There have been none better, however, than Beverly Hills High School. Without the incomparable support from the staff and an entire community, and in particular without the relentless effort of this alumni association, I honestly would never be able to stake this claim. For this, I will remain eternally grateful. After all, it is this devotion, and your support assures my job to remain a most rewarding one.

As always, "Go Normans!"
