

"I only ask Compass to speak to our students each year.

Their events are informative, insightful, relevant, reassuring, even amusing. They are the best I've seen on college admission testing."

Jon Reider, Director of College Counseling, University High School
Former Senior Admission Officer, Stanford University

The Road Ahead: Navigating College Admission Tests

Compass is regularly invited to speak about testing to private audiences of students, parents, counselors, and admission professionals. Please join us for an enlightening and pragmatic presentation on college admission tests at Beverly Hills High School. Topics will include: exploring the newly redesigned SAT, comparing the SAT and ACT, building a test prep timeline, and seeing how standardized tests factor into admission decisions.
